His Majesty's most Gracious SPEECH to both Houses of Parliament, on Thursday the Fifteenth Day of November 1739.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

THE present Posture of Our Affairs has obliged Me to call you together, at this Time, sooner than has been usual of late Years, that I may have the immediate Advice and Assistance of my Parliament at this critical and important Conjuncture. I have, in all My Proceedings with the Court of Spain, acted agreeably to the Sense of both Houses of Parliament; and therefore I can make no doubt, but I shall meet with a ready and vigorous Support in this just and necessary War, which the repeated Injuries, and Violences, committed by that Nation upon the Navigation and Commerce of these Kingdoms, and their Obstinacy, and notorious Violation of the most solemn Engagements, have rendered unavoidable.

I have augmented My Forces by Sea and Land, pursuant to the Power given Me by Parliament; which I have done with all the Moderation, that the Security and Defence of My Dominions, the Protection of Our Trade, and the necessary Means of distressing and annoying Our Enemies in the most sensible Parts, would admit: But as these Services will be various and extensive, they must inevitably be attended with great Expences, and some Inconveniences; which, I assure Myself, will be sustained with Satisfaction and Cheerfulness, in pursuing such Measures, as the Honour and Interest of My Crown and Kingdoms, and the general Resentment of an injured and provoked Nation, have called upon Me to undertake.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have ordered the proper Officers to lay before you Estimates for the Service of the ensuing Year, and likewise Accounts of the extraordinary Expences that have been made this Year, in pursuance of the Power given Me by Parliament. And as in Prosecution of this War, a Number of Soldiers, to serve on board the Fleet, may be requisite; I have judged it proper, that a Body of Marines should be raised, and have directed the Estimates for this purpose to be likewise prepared, and laid before you: And I cannot doubt, from your known Affection to My Person and Government, and your Zeal for the Safety, Prosperity, and Glory of these Kingdoms, but you will grant Me such effectual Supplies, and with such Dispatch, as may forward and give Spirit to Our Preparations, and enable Me to carry on the War with Vigour.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The Heats and Animosities, which, with the greatest Industry, have been fomented throughout the Kingdom, have, I am afraid, been one of the chief Encouragements to the Court of Spain, to hold such a Conduct towards Us, as to make it necessary to have recourse to Arms; and the unhappy Divisions amongst My Subjects, are the only Hopes of the Enemies to My Government: But whatever Views and Projects they may form upon this Rupture, and what Advantages soever Spain may vainly promise itself from any Circumstances in the present Situation of Affairs; it is in your Power, by the Blessing of GOD, to defeat the one, and disappoint the other. Union among all those, who have nothing at Heart but the true Interest of Great Britain, and a becoming Zeal in the Defence of my Kingdoms, and in the Support of the common Cause of our Country, with as general a Concurrence in carrying on the War, as there has appeared for engaging in it, will make the Court of Spain repent the Wrongs they have done Us; and convince those, who mean the Subversion of the present Establishment, that this Nation is determined, and able, both to vindicate their injured Honour, and to defend themselves against all Our open and secret Enemies, both at Home and Abroad.

The humble ADDRESS of the Right Honourable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled.

Die Jovis, 15 Novembris, 1739.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, beg leave to return Your Majesty our sincere and humble Thanks for Your most gracious Speech from the Throne.

The great Regard, which Your Majesty hath expressed for the Sense of both Houses of Parliament, in Your Proceedings with the Court of Spain, is a Continuance of that Royal Goodness, and Concern for the true Interests of Your People, which we have so often experienced: and Your Majesty's Desire to have the Advice and Assistance of Your Parliament, as early as possible, in this important Conjuncture, is a fresh Proof of Your real Confidence in Your faithful Subjects.

The Justice and Necessity of the War, which Your Majesty has been pleased to declare against Spain, must be as demonstrable to all the World, as the Violent and intolerable Methods practised by that Nation, to interrupt and distress the Navigation and Commerce of these Kingdoms, are notorious; and it is the highest Aggravation of this offensive and inexcusable Conduct, that it has been obstinately pursued, in breach of the most solemn Engagements, and in defiance of the highest Obligations of Friendship and good Offices. But since Great Britain has been thus unavoidably called forth to Arms, we esteem it our peculiar Felicity, that we have have a Prince upon the Throne, who with paternal Tenderneſs joins in the juſt Reſentment of an injured Nation; and whoſe Magnanimity and Steadineſs are equal to the glorious Cauſe, in which He is engaged.

On this Occaſion, the unfeigned Tender of our Lives and Fortunes is no more than is due to Your Majeſty, and our Country; and we do from the Bottom of our Hearts give Your Majeſty the ſtrongeſt Aſſurances, that we will zealouſly concur in all ſuch Meaſures as may forward Your Preparations, and enable You to carry on the War with that Spirit and Vigour, which truly become the Britiſh Name.

Your Majeſty's Goodneſs in acquainting us from the Throne, that You have augmented Your Forces by Sea and Land, purſuant to the Power given you by Parliament, with all the Moderation that was conſiſtent with thoſe deſirable Ends, which You, in Your Royal Wiſdom, have pointed out to us, is an Inſtance of Your Majeſty's gracious Diſpoſition to avoid bringing any unneceſſary Burdens upon Your People: And though we cannot flatter ourſelves, that a State of War will not be attended with great Expences, and ſome Inconveniencies; yet when it is undertaken, not to gratify the Views of reſtleſs Ambition, but to aſſert and maintain the Honour and juſt Rights of Your Majeſty's Crown and Kingdoms, we doubt not, but thoſe powerful Motives will induce all Your Subjects to undergo with Cheerfulneſs, whatever is neceſſary in the Proſecution of it.

It gives us inexpreſſible Concern, that there ſhould be any Occaſion for Your Majeſty to repeat Your gracious Admonitions againſt thoſe Heats and Animoſities, which have been fomented throughout the Kingdom. As we cannot but moſt ſeriouſly lament the unhappy Diviſions thereby occaſioned; ſo nothing ſhall be wanting on our Part to heal them, by promoting that good Harmony and Unanimity, which are ſo neceſſary at this Juncture: And we truſt in GOD, that any Hopes or Views formed by our Enemies upon ſuch Circumſtances, will be found utterly vain and groundleſs; ſince all Your Majeſty's Subjects muſt be convinced, that the Security of our Religion and Liberties, and the Safety and Proſperity of theſe Kingdoms do intirely depend on the Preſervation of Your ſacred Perſon and Government, and of the Proteſtant Succeſſion in Your Royal Houſe.

In this common Cauſe, Intereſt, as well as Duty, will make us unite; and we do with the greateſt Zeal and Firmneſs aſſure Your Majeſty, that we are determined, at the Hazard of all that is dear to us, to ſupport it againſt all Your Enemies, both at Home and Abroad; imploring the divine Providence to give Succeſs to your Arms, and make them the happy Means of procuring a ſafe and honourable Peace.

His Majeſty's moſt gracious ANSWER.

My LORDS,

I Thank you for this Addreſs, ſo full of Duty and Affection to Me, and of ſeaſonable Aſſurances of your vigorous Support. The Satisfaction you expreſs in the Meaſures I have taken, is very agreeable to Me; and you may depend on My Endeavours to carry on the War in ſuch a Manner, as may beſt anſwer the neceſſary Ends propoſed by it, and the juſt Expectations of My People.

The Humble ADDRESS of the Houſe of Commons to the KING.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majeſty's moſt Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, the Commons of Great Britain in Parliament aſſembled, beg leave to return Your Majeſty our unfeigned Thanks, for Your moſt gracious Speech from the Throne, and to expreſs our entire Satisfaction in Your Majeſty's Declaration of War againſt the Crown of Spain; a War, which the repeated Violences and Depredations committed by the Spaniſh Nation upon the Trade and Commerce of theſe Kingdoms, the notorious Violation of their moſt ſolemn Engagements, their obſtinate Refuſal of making Reparation for paſt Injuries and of giving Security againſt the like for the future, have rendered juſt and unavoidable.

It is with the higheſt Senſe of Duty and Gratitude, we acknowledge Your Majeſty's Wiſdom and paternal Care of Your People, in making Uſe of the Power granted to Your Majeſty by Parliament, for the Security and Defence of theſe Kingdoms, for the Protection of our Trade, and for the Diſtreſſing and Annoying our Enemies in the moſt ſenſible and effectual Manner; and we beg leave to aſſure Your Majeſty, that nothing ſhall divert or deter us from ſuſtaining, with Satisfaction and Chearfulneſs, any extraordinary Expences and Inconveniencies, that muſt inevitably attend the various and extenſive Services, which Your Majeſty ſhall find neceſſary to undertake, in vindicating the Honour of Your Crown, in aſſerting the Rights of Your People, and in procuring Juſtice to an injured and provoked Nation.

And we beſeech Your Majeſty, to accept the ſtrongeſt and moſt affectionate Aſſurances, that, in Defence of Your Majeſty's Kingdoms, and in Support of the Common Cauſe of our Country, we will raiſe ſuch effectual Supplies, and with ſuch Chearfulneſs and Diſpatch, as will forward and give Spirit to Your Majeſty's Preparations, and enable Your Majeſty to carry on the War with Vigour.

And Your dutiful Commons, being truly ſenſible of the fatal Conſequences of inteſtine Heats and Animoſities, will, with a Zeal becoming the Repreſentatives of the People in Parliament, endeavour to compoſe thoſe unhappy Diviſions, which have too long prevailed among Your Majeſty's Subjects; and we do aſſure Your Majeſty, that nothing ſhall be wanting on our part, to reſtore to the Nation that Union and Harmony, which may effectually defeat and diſappoint all the vain Projects, Hopes, and Expectations of Your Majeſty's open and ſecret Enemies, both at Home and Abroad.

A RESOLUTION of the Right Honourable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons, in Parliament aſſembled.

Die Mercurii, 21 Novembris, 1739.

RESolved by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in Parliament aſſembled, That an humble Addreſs be preſented to His Majeſty, as a dutiful Return to His gracious Deſire of the Advice of His Parliament at this critical and important Conjuncture; and as a farther Teſtimony of our firm Reſolution vigorouſly to ſupport His Majeſty in the Proſecution of the War againſt Spain, humbly to beſeech His Majeſty, never to admit of any Treaty of Peace with that Crown, unleſs the Acknowledgment of our natural and indubitable Right to navigate in the American Seas, to and from any Part of His Majeſty's Dominions, without being ſeized, ſearched, viſited, or ſtopped, under any Pretence whatſoever, ſhall have been firſt obtained as a Preliminary thereto.

His MAJESTY's moſt gracious ANSWER.

My LORDS and GENTLEMEN,

I Thank you for this dutiful Addreſs, which is ſo agreeable to former Reſolutions of both Houſes of Parliament. Your unanimous and vigorous Support in carrying on the War, will be the beſt Means of procuring ſafe and honourable Terms of Peace; and you may rely on My utmoſt Care and Endeavour, to obtain effectual Security for the juſt Rights of Navigation and Commerce belonging to My Subjects.

PHI-

PHILADELPHIA.

On Friday laſt arrived the Snow Mediterranean, Capt. Bond in 32 Days from Briſtol, by whom we have publick Prints to the 26th of January, in which are the following Advices, viz.

That the French declare they will not join with Spain in the preſent War with Great Britain; but are neverthelefs making great Preparations by Land and Sea.

That Corſica is to be given to the Infante Don Philip, one of the King of Spain's Sons, who lately married a Daughter of France, & who will ſhortly be declared King of that Iſland.

That the Winter has been exceſſively ſevere in England, beyond any thing in the Memory of Man, by which the Poor have ſuffer'd extreamly, notwithſtanding vaſt Sums of Money, and Quantities of Coals, Bread, &c. diſtributed a mong them in Charity.

That there has been a great Conſpiracy diſcover'd in Ruſſia, by which the Czarina was to have been depos'd, and the Princeſs Elizabeth (Daughter of Peter the firſt) plac'd on the Throne in her Stead. Four of the Family of Dolgoroucki have been executed on this Account at Novogrod.

That a conſiderable Number of Merchant Ships were taken into the King's Service for Tranſporting a Body of Land Forces on ſome Expedition.

That the Swedes have laid aſide their Deſigns againſt Ruſſia.

That the Algerines are preparing for an Attempt againſt Oran, while the Engliſh Fleet prevent Succours going thither from Spain, &c.

Extract of a Letter from Charleſtown, South Carolina, dated Feb. 11. 1739,40.

The Aſſembly ſat yeſterday, which was Sunday, and are come to a Reſolution to attack Auguſtine. Two Hundred Voluntiers are to be raiſed in this Town, to be join'd by 300 Swiſs from our Out-Settlements, 100 Swiſs from Purrysburgh, and 400 Negroes. The Whites are to have 15 l. per Month, the Blacks 8 l. beſides Proviſions, &c. by which you may judge what a great Charge the Country will be at this Year.

We hear from Oley, that a Child of about 7 Years of Age, being half an Hour miſſing, was found kill'd in a wooden Trap, that had been ſet by an Indian over a ſmall Run of Water, for Foxes and Raccons.

From Cheſter County we hear, that one William Coughran felling a large Tree, it lodged in the Top of a ſmall Tree, which when he was cutting down, the firſt fell on him and kill'd him.

From Lancaſter County we hear, that one Benjamin Skirret going home from a Neighbour's Houſe in the Night time, fell with his Horſe down a ſteep rocky Hill, where both were found dead the next Morning.

And that the Houſe of David Jones of Lancaſter took fire by accident not long ſince, and was conſumed to Aſhes with the greateſt Part of his Goods and Proviſion.

March 12. This Day arrived here Capt. Todd, in 12 Days from Bermudas, who reports, that 6 Days before he left that Iſland a Veſſel arrived there from Jamaica, with Advice, that Admiral Vernon was return'd thither with the Fleet under his Command, having taken Porto Bello from the Spaniards, together with two Spaniſh Men of War which lay there; and was about to ſail for Cuba, on a Deſign to attempt the Havanna.
